

MORE SPACE TO FEEL GOOD: EDELWEISS PRESENTS THE NEW CABIN IN THE AIRBUS A350

News / Airlines

With the introduction of the Airbus A350, Edelweiss presents a new, holistically developed long-haul travel experience. Under the motto "More room to feel good," the Swiss leisure airline combines a modern cabin design with high-quality materials, a calming color palette, and state-of-the-art technology. The new cabin is far more than just an upgrade of the seats. It represents a consciously designed sense of space that prioritizes relaxation, comfort, and a welcoming atmosphere.

The elegant and modern design of the new aircraft livery, featuring darker shades of red and blue and the characteristic red wave pattern, is reflected in the interior. Inspired by comfortable, inviting sofas, the interior exudes a sense of calm while simultaneously conveying a high-quality and contemporary feel. This inspiration is complemented by elements of contemporary Swiss architecture. Reduced forms, clean lines, and selectively used patterns define the cabin's appearance. Fine details and high-quality workmanship underscore the premium standard in all travel classes.

Compared to the previous cabin, the color scheme has been deliberately reduced. This conscious reduction creates a sense of calm and harmony. Shades of blue, in their various forms, characterize the overall appearance.

Edelweiss Economy: timeless, clear and inviting

The new Edelweiss Economy cabin impresses with its high-quality, clean design. Subtle, blue woven fabrics create a calm, timeless ambiance. Fine stitching details give the seats an elegant, tailored look. Overall, the interior appears harmonious and inviting.

All seats offer approximately three centimeters more legroom compared to the previous cabin, as well as a greater seat tilt angle, which noticeably increases comfort on long journeys.

Edelweiss Premium Economy: more premium and noticeably more space

With the new cabin, Edelweiss is strategically expanding its premium offerings and simultaneously increasing the proportion of premium seats on board. The new Edelweiss Premium Economy features 28 seats in a 2-3-2 configuration with approximately one meter of legroom and a high-quality hard-shell seat, similar to those used on other Lufthansa Group airlines.

The darker, more elegant color scheme underscores the premium aspirations. Guests enjoy a welcome drink even before takeoff. During the flight, they benefit from an expanded food selection, served on china on a tablecloth. Alcoholic beverages are included. Noise-canceling headphones from Edelweiss Business Class provide added comfort.

Edelweiss Business: First-class comfort with direct aisle access

The new Edelweiss Business combines high comfort with a cabin layout tailored to holidaymakers. The continuous 1-2-1 seating configuration offers every guest direct aisle access. Approximately half of the seats are designed as double seats and are ideal for couples traveling together.

The seats can be fully converted into a flat bed, allowing for restful sleep on long journeys. Dark blue tones, a unique woven upholstery, and carefully selected wood surfaces characterize the comfortable cabin design.

Edelweiss Business Suite: Exclusivity meets maximum privacy

The new Edelweiss Business Suite is designed for guests with the highest demands for privacy and comfort. The seats can be fully converted into a spacious, flat bed. Closable doors, approximately 1.20 meters high, ensure a high degree of privacy, while the large 32-inch monitors provide an immersive cinematic experience. In the middle suites, the room divider can be individually adjusted, allowing the suite to be used flexibly for guests traveling together.

A special feature is the generous open foot area, which offers significantly more freedom of movement when lying down. The package is complemented by a comfortable memory foam pillow and a mattress topper for restful sleep, as well as additional storage space for personal hand luggage.

Modern technology for all guests on board

In addition to design and comfort, modern technology plays a central role in the new cabin concept. In all travel classes, guests benefit from free high-speed internet via Starlink, 4K screens with Bluetooth audio connectivity, and a comprehensive inflight entertainment system with over 400 films and series, a 3D flight map, and external cameras. Human-centric lighting supports the natural circadian rhythm on long-haul flights.

The offering is complemented by wireless charging in Edelweiss Premium Economy, Edelweiss Business, and Edelweiss Business Suite, as well as high-performance USB-C and USB-A ports at all seats with up to 60 watts of power, allowing for convenient laptop charging. Additional power outlets are available in Edelweiss Business and Edelweiss Business Suite. Noise-canceling headphones provide added comfort in Edelweiss Premium Economy, Edelweiss Business, and Edelweiss Business Suite.
