News / Business aviation

The business after corona crisis is going on and here is one of first merging we've hear about - Dominvs Aviation and Azzura Charters. This is a result of new appointment inside Dominvs Aviation. Melanie Blackman appointed as Head of Charter Services to manage day to day charter sales and operation, for both the Dominvs owned and managed fleet of aircraft, as well as the brokerage of operating partner jets and helicopters. Melanie brings with her a wealth of experience within the business aviation industry, including leading her own air charter brokerage Azzura Charters for the past seven years and whose business has been incorporated into Dominvs Aviation as part of a merging agreement.

Chris Mace, CEO of Dominvs Aviation comments; “We are thrilled to welcome Melanie into the Dominvs family. Air charter requires detailed knowledge and experience to ensure that the exacting requirements of our clients expectations are fulfilled. Melanie brings this and it’s a delight to work with someone we respect and have a long history of working alongside.”

“This brings together a great synergy of strength and experience of two great aviation companies. It is wonderful to be part of a like-minded team that is both passionate about aviation and exceeding client expectations. I am very much looking forward to working with both existing and new clients on their travel requirements” says Head of Charter Services, Melanie Blackman.

Dominvs Aviation was formed in 2019 by Chris Mace, former founder of air charter operator SaxonAir and the Dominvs Group Chairman, Sukhpal Ahluwalia, who is one of the UK's leading business entrepreneurs and continues to inspire. Before Dominvs Group, he grew his first enterprise, Euro Car Parts, into the largest distributor of car parts in Europe. Now he not only heads the Dominvs Group with his family but has many other business interests as well as the Ahluwalia Family Foundation to formalise his family's philanthropic giving.
